(Update on Previously Disclosed Information)
Notice Concerning Revenue Decrease and Booking of Allowance for Doubtful Accounts

Tokyo, November 6, 2026—In light of the content in "(Update on Previously Disclosed Information) Notice Regarding FGI's Measures Taken Following Release of Investigation Report on AI storm Co., Ltd.," disclosed today, management at FinTech Global Incorporated (hereafter, "FGI" and "the Company") decided to reduce revenues for fiscal 2026, both consolidated and non-consolidated, and book provision of allowance for doubtful accounts. Details are provided below.

Particulars

1. Summary

After a careful review of receivables from funds backed by used vehicle assets operated by AI storm, taking into account the participation of certain FGI Group companies in the roles of arranger and asset manager, FGI decided to reduce consolidated and non-consolidated revenues for fiscal 2026, ended September 30, 2026, by ¥211 million. Concurrently, FGI recorded a ¥709 million provision for doubtful accounts under in selling, general and administrative expenses.

Note that this reduction in revenues applies to fiscal 2026 only. There is no impact on the announced results of past fiscal years. Also note, this reduction in revenues includes ¥162 million booked in the second and third quarters of fiscal 2026, but the impact was minimal in these quarters, and FGI has made no changes to the respective quarterly results, only to year-end results.

2. Impact on business performance

The impact of the situation involving AI storm on fiscal 2026 consolidated and non-consolidated business performance is reflected in "Summary of Financial Statements for Fiscal 2026 (Under Japanese GAAP)"

FGI remains firm in its stand that AI storm fulfill its obligations under the memorandum of understanding described in "(Update on Previously Disclosed Information)

Notice Regarding FGI's Measures Taken Following Release of Investigation Report by AI storm Co., Ltd." and going forward, the Company will immediately disclose information if the status of fulfillment or other circumstances materially impact the Company's business performance.
